

One Process

Time Is Big Money

Could you use an extra 80 hours a month production time? That's what a major hardware manufacturer gained through Sterling automation. Die lubrication, shot removal, part inspection, quenching, trimming and burnishing -- it's all one automated process now.

If the idea of boosting production sounds good, call us.

We'll show you how our "keep it simple" approach to robotics and automation can benefit you.